

Alex Eastley joined the Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra as Principal Bassoon in 2007. She completed her Bachelor of Music degree at the Curtis Institute of Music and earned her Master's degree in solo bassoon performance from McGill University (Montreal).

From February through June, 2016, Alex is guest principal bassoon with the Auckland Philharmonic Orchestra. She has also performed as guest principal bassoon with the Scottish Chamber Orchestra, the Ulster Orchestra and the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra.

In the realm of improvised music, Alex has played with the London Improvisers Orchestra (UK) and the Dutch Impro Academy in Amsterdam.

In addition to teaching privately, Alex has served as sessional instructor at the University of Manitoba and Memorial University (Newfoundland) and she joined the faculty of Brandon University (Manitoba) in 2014.