

Gretchen Kindseth earned a BA in Music Education from Jamestown College (now University of Jamestown). She taught K-12 vocal and general music with the Fessenden-Bowdon school district before relocating to Moorhead, MN.

As an accompanist, Gretchen has worked with individual students, choirs, and productions for North Dakota State University, Concordia College, Fargo Public Schools, Fargo Catholic Schools, and Grand Forks Public Schools. She has been active as a church choir director and Sunday school music leader. Gretchen has taught piano students for 15 years, and also teaches early childhood music classes through Lifesong Family Music and Children's Music Academy, Grand Forks.

Gretchen currently lives in Grand Forks, ND, with her husband Lucas and their 4 children. She is an IMC alum for Piano and Choir.