

Melissa Cournia currently teaches reading at Bismarck High School. She received both her B.S. and M.S. in Middle Level Education from the University of North Dakota. She is Nationally Board Certified in Early Adolescence English Language Arts. She is a facilitator and Outreach Coordinator for the Northern Plains Writing Project working with teachers to become better teachers of writing. She enjoys writing poetry, spoken word poetry, and memoir. She lives in Mandan, North Dakota, with her husband and dogs.