

Brenda Handel-Johnson returns to IMC from Tokyo, Japan where she teaches at Seisen International School. At Seisen she teaches music in grades Kindergarten through High School, conducts choirs, and accompanies and collaborates with students and teachers throughout the school and in the greater Tokyo area. Prior to that Brenda has been a long-time Minnesota resident serving as a church musician and pianist, studio piano and voice instructor and an adjunct college conductor and teacher. She loves spending time outside and is looking forward to seeing friends and making music at IMC.
