

Zach Schultz is a graduate of the Galloup Guitars master program. He has been working in guitar repair since 2011 and playing in bands since 2003. In that time he's repaired many an instrument, built a few, played countless shows, and traveled to both coasts with music. Currently he is working at Jacobsen Music in Minot, ND, and is a member of Pangea House, a small collective focused on providing and showcasing music and art in an all ages capacity. He has a lovely wife and 2 mostly cool dogs.
