

Melissa Dueck originates from Winnipeg, MB, and earned her B. Music and B. Education degrees from the University of Manitoba as a voice major, specializing in Early Years and Choral studies. She then directed the Middle Years Choral program at Linden Christian School for five years, and has now moved to southeastern Manitoba, where she is teaching the Ignite program at Steinbach Bible College, while holding a large private voice and piano studio in their conservatory.

Melissa is passionate about giving every individual the opportunity to grow in their love and appreciation for music, no matter what level they are at. With excellence in music as a primary goal, she has even spendt much of her free time volunteering as a choir director at her local church. If she is not teaching, you can find Melissa spending time with her husband and two young sons.
