

Michael Land holds the BM and MM degrees in piano performance from Lee University where he studied primarily with pianist Ning An. As a soloist, Michael has had success in competition. In 2006, he placed first in the Tennessee Music Teachers Association state-level competition. In 2007, he received the first prize in the Zelpha Wells Piano Competition held at Stillman College in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. At the Margaret A. Guthman competition in Atlanta, Georgia, Michael placed 4th in 2008.

After working and teaching in Bismarck, ND as a musician and adjunct faculty for three years, he and his wife Rachel moved to Ellendale, ND in 2013 where Michael serves as head of the music department at Trinity Bible College where his duties include private instruction in piano and voice, choral directing, and teaching a wide-range of music courses. He is also active as an accompanist and church musician.