

Me-Chuan Lin, born in Taiwan, has graduated from prestigious Cleveland Institute of Music (C.I.M), where she was successfully granted the master degree in piano Performance. Now she is the ABD at UND in music education having the piano pedagogy as her main focus. Before she came to UND, Mei-Chuan was an instructor at the National Pingtung University in Taiwan. She also taught piano lesson, ear training, sight singing courses in three famous music high schools in Taiwan. Under Dr. Norman Dearden and Dr. Sugiura at UND, Mei-Chuan aims to get the doctor degree in August 2019.

Distinctions:

Teaching credential:

National College Instructor License, Taiwan Ministry of Education

Selected work experience:

- 2015-19 *Instructor/ keyboard Skill MUSC 133 and MUSC 136 at UND
 - *Assigned Vocal Studio piano accompanist
 - *Assigned instrumental accompanist
 - *Community Music Program/ Piano instructor (Head)
 - *Coordinate/ Community Music Program Studio Recital
- 2019 *Judge, the Burgmuller piano competition
- 2014 *Judge, the piano group, National Student Music Contest Finals, Taiwan
- 2012 *Judge, the piano group, National Student Music Contest Finals
- 2010 *Judge, Stein Bach National Music Contest Final

Educational Background:

- 2019 Ph.D. Candidate (will Graduate in August 2019), University of North Dakota
 - Grand Forks, North Dakota (Music Education/ Cognate: Piano Pedagogy)
- 1996 MM, Cleveland Institute of Music – Cleveland, Ohio (Piano Performance)
- 1993 BM, Shih Chien University – Taipei, Taiwan (Piano Performance)