

Dinah Langsjoen is an artist and mother from Minnesota. Her passion is painting and making intricate Ink Illustrations. She has collaborated with other visual artists, musicians, and designers, as well as tattooists in need of new inspiration. In teaching art, Dinah is most excited to inspire other artists to find their own passionate display of their souls. She believes that everyone, despite their level and their believed skills, has the potential to nourish their love and talent under the right enthusiastic guidance.
