

Anasia Persowich is a teacher and artist living in Lorette, Manitoba. In 2014 she graduated from the University of Manitoba with her Honors Bachelor of Fine Arts with a major in painting and a minor in drawing and to pursue her career as an art teacher, she graduated in 2016 with her Bachelor of education.

Over her free time in the summer she is able to focus on her artwork. Her preferred mediums are ink, watercolor, and acrylic; usually a mix of mediums are used in her art and she has been working on a series of prints that show a mix of mediums. As a Home ec. teacher she is passionate about bringing in some aspects of what she teaches into her art. The use of thread and different textiles can be seen incorporated throughout her art work as well.

She has worked at the Assiniboine Camp and Zoo where she created fun and exciting programs for young children for the zoo summer camp program, along with coordinating MinniU and CanU camp programs at the University of Manitoba.
