

MM in Collaborative Piano, Boston University
MM in Music Theory Pedagogy, Southern Methodist University
BM in Piano Performance, Southern Methodist University

Vicky Nooe is currently a collaborative pianist at University of Texas Arlington and an adjunct professor in theory and piano at Dallas Baptist University. This is her first summer with International Music Camp. After IMC, she will return to Boston University's Tanlewood Institute where she works with talented young singers as a vocal coach and theory teacher. She is a highly sought after collaborative pianist, specializing in coaching singers (musical theater and classical) and music directing musical theater. A member of Pi Kappa Lambda, she has studied under Shiela Kibbe, Carol Leone, Alfred Mouledous, and Stephen Buck. She has worked with Metroplex Opera Company in Dallas, TX and NEMPAC Opera Project in Boston, as well as a collaborative pianist at Boston Conservatory, Texas Christian University, Hebrew College, and the Upper Valley Music Center.