

Joel D. Walters

Joel Walters is a North Dakota native and an active educator and performer throughout the region. He frequently serves as an adjudicator, conductor, and clinician around the region, and regularly performs as a piano and vocal soloist. Joel works as a vocal coach and collaborative pianist and has performed and toured with internationally acclaimed and award-winning soloists and choirs throughout the United States and Canada. Joel is the president of the Dickinson Area Concert Association and serves as administrative liaison for the Dickinson chapter of the If Music Be the Food national benefit concert series. He is the conductor of the Ukrainian Festival Chamber Choir and is a certified piano tuner and technician. Joel maintains a private music studio where he teaches piano and voice and has been on the Dickinson State University music faculty as piano instructor since 2011. Joel received Bachelor of Arts degrees in music and communications from Dickinson State University, and a Master of Music degree in piano performance from North Dakota State University Fargo, North Dakota.