

Originally from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Bradley Fremder is a percussionist and educator who has a passion for contemporary solo and chamber music. Bradley received his undergraduate degree in performance from UW-Milwaukee where he was an active member in the music scene. He was a featured soloist with the UW-Milwaukee Percussion Ensemble, as well as performed with many of the orchestras in the Milwaukee area.

Bradley is currently pursuing a MM in Percussion Performance at UW-Madison where he studies with Tony Disanza. Bradley is an assistant percussion director for the Wisconsin Youth Symphony Orchestra where he co-directs the WYSO Percussion Ensemble. He also is the instructor for the brand-new music program, Percussion Pilots, where he teaches 3rd grade students music fundamentals and world percussion. Bradley is also an instructor with the Greendale High school Marching Band.

Bradley is a proud Artifact Percussion Artist.