

Emily Diehl is an operatic soprano, voice actor, vocal coach, and author living in Nova Scotia. These days, most of her time is spent writing science fiction and fantasy novels, as well as narrating and producing audiobooks. She is a coach on the online platform SkillsHub, where she teaches voice actors from around the world: she coaches vocal health and body mapping, as well as audio drama, narration, and dialects. She is super excited to be back at IMC for another year!