

Paul Murray Bio:

Paul Murray is a former trombonist of the touring brass ensemble, The King's Brass. He earned his Master of Music degree from DePaul University in Chicago under the guidance of Mark Fisher and Charlie Vernon, and his Bachelor of Music degree in Trombone Performance from the University of North Dakota under Dr. Joel Pugh. As a soloist, Paul has performed with the Bismarck-Mandan Symphony, UND Wind Ensemble, and Grand Forks Symphony. Through music related events, Paul has been fortunate to travel to countries all over Europe, Asia, and North America. Outside of music, Paul enjoys spending time with his wife, playing video/board games, and taking his two dogs, Phineas and Sandy, on long walks.
