

J’Kobe Wallace (he/him/his) is a performing artist currently based in New York City and holds a degree in Music (B.S.Ed). He has most recently worked on an equity contract with The St. Louis Black Repertory Company where he performed in the musical review, EUBIE! He has had the privilege of leading two national tours for Sesame Street Live! produced by Feld Entertainment as a live host/ vocalist. Before his time on tour, J’Kobe was a Burning Hills Singer for the Medora Musical for two years. He taught at Roger’s School of Music and encouraged young performers of all ages to explore singing as a joyful means of expression. Throughout his career he has always been a champion for Black lives on and off stage. “Every time I step foot on stage, I do it for the little black kids that may not see someone who looks like them in the arts.” He has lived in three different countries, has a love for photography and film, and enjoys watching drag queens. @jkobewallace. jkobewallace.com
