

Grace Miller is so excited to be returning to IMC for her 4th summer as a band instrument repair technician! Grace holds B.A. in Music and German from Lehigh University where she played mellophone, French horn, and trumpet in various ensembles, and was employed as the orchestra assistant as well as a stage technician. It was during a violin lesson that Grace began to consider the intricacies of how musical instruments function. As a result she enrolled at Minnesota State College Southeast Red Wing for two years, studying band instrument repair ('22) and violin repair and construction ('23). While living in Red Wing, Grace was briefly employed as a harp maker! Since then, Grace has been working in band instrument repair shops all across Pennsylvania.

When not repairing instruments, Grace can be found hanging out with her cat, Wallie, watching Legends of Avantris, crocheting, or looking for the best pierogies in town.
