

Jenn Jensen is an educator and performer based in the Twin Cities, MN. She has a degree in Music Theater from Carthage College and spent two years touring with the Missoula Children's Theater, helping children around the country develop life skills through theater. She has also worked locally with numerous companies including Graceful Monsters Educational Theater Collective and Ashland Productions, where she has been an ACT teaching artist since 2017. In addition to being an educator, Jenn is a member of multiple singing groups in the area and can occasionally be seen on stage acting or performing stage combat. Jenn is thrilled to have the opportunity to work at International Music Camp this summer!
